

Mr. Zeamer is an International Association of Arson Investigators (IAAI) Certified Fire Investigator (CFI(v)) with an additional specialized accreditation in vehicle fires. Mr. Zeamer has qualified as an expert in fire origin and cause analysis, as well as accident reconstruction and vehicle powertrain failure mode analysis. He has been conducting fire origin and cause evaluations, as well as fire and explosion evaluations, since 2004. His services have been rendered by plaintiff firms, defense firms, individuals, and private companies to include insurance companies. His testimony has included fire origin and cause determination, failure mode analysis, and accident reconstruction.

Mr. Zeamer relies upon the facts present during an investigation and will not present his findings in any manner other than truthfully and accurately. He relies upon test data that has been substantiated, and peer reviewed throughout the industry to come to his conclusions and will not approach, or conduct, an investigation through the means of "pseudo-science". Mr. Zeamer strongly believes that the accurate and truthful presentation of the facts is paramount.

Education

Texas A&M University, 1998-1999

Lonestar Community College, 2000-2011

Licenses & Certifications

- Certified Fire Investigator, IAAI
- Vehicle Fire Credential Endorsement, IAAI
- Certified FIT, IAAI
- Certified Accident Reconstruction Expert, ACTAR # 2690
- Advanced Accident Reconstruction, TEEX
- Licensed Private Investigator, PI # A05924
- Certified First Aid/CPR/AED, American Red Cross
- Certified Forklift Operator

Areas of Specialization

- Fires and Explosions
- Origin & Cause
- Powertrain Failure Analysis
- Industrial and Commercial Machinery Fires
- Collision and Non-Collision Related Vehicle Fires
- Product Fires
- Vehicle Component Failure Mode Analysis
- Collision Avoidance and Timing Sequence
- Momentum Based Collision Analysis
- Forensic Evaluation of Failed Components
- AutoCad Diagramming and Modeling
